APA 7th Edition Student Research Paper Format

Running Head: APA FORMAT TEMPLATE | Student Name | Department of Psychology | Course Code: PSY-301 | Instructor Name | Due Date

TITLE PAGE (PAGE 1)

In APA 7th Edition for students, the title page features bold title in upper-and-lowercase, author name, institutional affiliation, course code and name, instructor title, and assignment submission date. Running head is optional for undergraduate student papers unless specified by faculty.

ABSTRACT

A single, unindented paragraph of 150 to 250 words describing the problem, participants, study method, findings, and implications.

KEYWORDS

APA 7th edition, student manuscript, social sciences, behavioral research, formatting guidelines.

INTRODUCTION

Begins on page 3 with the paper title centered in bold. Introduce the problem, review pertinent literature, discuss theoretical rationale, and state precise hypotheses or questions.

METHOD

Subdivided into: (a) Participants, (b) Measures and Instruments, and (c) Procedure. Every operational step must be articulated with exact psychometric detail.

RESULTS

Statistical reporting adheres strictly to APA notation: italicized p, t, F, and r values. Include degrees of freedom and effect sizes (e.g., Cohen's d or partial eta-squared).

DISCUSSION

Interpret findings in the broader psychological context, articulate practical applications, address study constraints, and suggest future avenues.
